

STATEMENTS FOR MY FUTURE

PROLOGUE

Five years, or 157,784,630 seconds, is a blink on the face of the universe. My plan for that time is a response to the question of how and what, rather than when. The following pieces of writing are a time capsule of things I wish to remember in the next 157,784,630 seconds.

I QUIT

In elementary school I played the flute

I quit to play trombone

In middle school I played the trombone

I quit to draw

In high school I drew

I quit to use the computer

In college I used the computer

I quit to write

TEACHING

I want to teach curiosity
The essential ingredient
I missed in the classroom

COMPETITION

Survival means
Not raising the bar
Significantly higher
Than expected

Only high enough

NOTE TO SELF ON LOVE

Sometimes
I wish my face
Had not healed from the
First love nose-dive

Remembering makes tender
Forgetting makes callous

SKILLS

A hidden-talent stock-supply is mandatory preparation for the revolution because specialization is hurting me.

ENGINEER

My engineer is trapped in an artistic prison.

A person who uses scientific knowledge to design, build or operate equipment, structures and systems.

POLITICING

Politics is entirely predetermined.

The best I can do is be prepared.

Politicians are egomaniacal.

Protestors are reactive.

Is self-absorption better than no plan at all?

INSTITUTIONAL MANTRA

Leave the institution
less oppressive
than you found it.

WISDOM

Wisdom is knowing the difference between accepting the unchangeable and changing the unacceptable.

HOUSING

WRITING

On the subway or bus

In a book

In a corner, with some friends

On a table, with a stand

In a gallery

On a shirt

Publish or self-publish

Illegal stickers

The papers

On the internet

Crappy zine and

Fancy magazine

MASTER'S DEGREE

Political Science

Communication & Technology

Adult Education

Animation & Physics

Baking & Pastry Arts

Community Ministry

WEB STARTUP

Create an environment for students to work and learn and provide website services for organizations that cannot afford it

IN REGARDS TO LOVING AND MOVING

Fulfillment requires good judgment.

Good judgment is based on experience.

Experience is earned, not given.
